Democratic Nominations

FOR PRESIDENT,
GEN. GEO. B. MCCLELLAN.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
HON. GEO. H. PENDLETON,

DISTRICT TICKET.

FOR CONGRESS,
COL. V. E. PIOLLET,

FOR ASSEMBLY,
WILLIAMSON B. JACOBY,

COUNTY TICKET,

FOR SHERIFF,
SAMUEL SNYDER, of Alfing.

FOR COMMISSIONER,
ALLEN MANN, of Beaver.

FOR AUDITOR,
DANIEL SNYDER, of Scott.

Abolition Loyalty.

One hundred and five men were drafted in Indiana county, Pa., to fill deficiencies in the late calls. Of the number, four reported for service, and one furnished a substitute. Indiana, it should be remembered, is an exceedingly loyal county, usually giving about two thousand majority for the Abolition ticket.

The Hon. Emerson Etheridge, of Tenn., late member of Congress, and twice clerk of the House, elected by the Republicans; addressed the McClellan Meeting in Independence Square in Philadelphia, on the 17th; and which it is admitted was the largest political meeting ever held in that city. He made a most magnificent speech.

John J. Ciego, late Lincoln's U. S. Treasurer at New York, was Vice President of the McClellan meeting last Saturday, and on the same stand were Wm. B. Astor, the millionaire, Hon. Geo. Law, Republican candidate for nomination to the presidency in 1860, and Wm. H. Aspinwall, all heretofore opposed to the Democracy; now laboring for our success.

The Hon. Reverdy Johnson, U. S. Senator from Maryland, has written a letter severely denouncing the incompetency and unfitness of Lincoln, protesting against his re-election, and going, with all the might of his great intellect for McClellan. He is the oldest and one of the ablest Senators in Congress, and has always heretofore been a Whig, and opposed to the Democracy. We will try and publish his letter next week. He says "not twenty members (of Congress) believe Lincoln equal, or at all equal to the mighty task" of governing the country.

Loyalty.

"Any man may oppose the Administration, yet be a true patriot and loyal supporter of the Government."

Tribune, Aug. 11, 1864.

Not long since we called attention to an article from the Tribune, enunciating the same doctrine, and covering a few instances in town with ridicule and contempt; on account of their foolish attempts to make people believe that the administration of Abe Lincoln, was as one, with the government itself.

Since the publication of that article, we have not heard of any street or corner gazing on the subject; but for fear that the blowers should forget themselves, we give them another dose from the same Old Cow. We shall let them fight it out with Mr. Horace Greeley & co.

Abolition Outrage.

From a special dispatch to the Age, we learn that after the adjournment of the immense Democratic mass meeting at Pottsville, on Saturday, twenty cavalrymen belonging to a force of newly enlisted men in camp near that town, charged out of an alley with drawn sabres upon the people. They cut and slashed about and trampled down quite a number of people. Six men were wounded by them. Before resistance could be offered to the assault, they hurried off.

These men are from Chambersburg, have not been in service before, and have never yet faced the rebels. It is supposed that they were encouraged by Abolition residents.

The meeting was one of the largest and most enthusiastic, and was addressed by Messrs. F. W. Hughes, Wm. Witte, Joel Cook, Myer Strouse, and others.

Gen. John A. McClelland, late a Lincoln man, is out in a letter for McClellan. He is from Illinois.

Out for Little Mac.

GEORGE D. PRENTICE, for many years the leading opponent of the Democracy in the State of Kentucky, is out strong for McClellan. The Louisville Journal, Prentice's paper, runs up the names of McClellan and Pendleton to its mast-head.

GOV. BRAMLETTE, of Kentucky, whose election was claimed by the "Republicans," as a Lincoln victory, supports McClellan and Pendleton. GEN. LESLIE COOMBS and Hon. M. UNDERWOOD, of the same State, are also strong supporters of Little Mac.

GEORGE S. HILLIARD, of Massachusetts, always heretofore opposed to the Democracy, is out for McClellan and Pendleton.

AMOS KENDALL, Gen. Jackson's Post-master General, is one of the most ardent supporters of Little Mac in the whole Union.

The "NATIONAL INTELLIGENCER," the most reliable news journal in the United States, and which never before supported a Democratic candidate for the Presidency, comes out in a long and able leader, endorsing the nomination of McClellan and Pendleton and earnestly recommending their election.

The SOMERSET (Md.) HERALD, hitherto a strong opposition paper, boasts the names of the Democratic nominees for President and Vice-President.

WASHINGTON HUNT, formerly Whig Governor of New York, supports McClellan and Pendleton.

JAMES S. THAYER, the most eloquent orator in the State of New York, and once the bosom friend and political partisan of Henry Clay, is an enthusiastic supporter of the Democratic nominees.

HON. EDGAR COWAN, U. S. Senator from this State, and one of the leading men in the Republican party, is opposed to Abraham Lincoln, and favorable to George B. McClellan.

Thus, the ball is rolling. The best men and truest patriots in the opposition ranks support Little Mac. Hurrah for the hero of Antietam!

We are glad to learn that Dr. W. E. BARRETT, of Cambria, is not among the list of martyrs to the cause of Democracy from the lower part of the County. How far Lincoln is to pursue this unlovely crusade against the Constitutional rights of the citizen remains to be seen. We would warn him as our fathers warned his great prototype George the III, that he may pursue it until forbearance ceases to be a virtue, when both soldier and citizen will unite in hurling from power, one who has trampled upon, instead of maintaining the rights of the citizen.

Let the Administration cease the persecution of the people for opinion sake. Let it restore to freedom all it has illegally robbed of their liberty, and insure to all in future, the rights secured by the Constitution and the laws.

Lackawanna Register.

OUR Democratic friends will do well to remember that the telegraph wires, like the postoffice, are under the control of Mr. Lincoln and his partisans. The false returns from Maine, claiming twenty and twenty-five thousand majority for Cony, when, in fact, his majority of seventeen thousand seven hundred and sixteen last year has been whittled down three or four thousand this year by Democratic gains in every county save two, are one specimen of the use that will be made of this control of the wires.

Hon. ROBERT C. WINTHROP, late a member of Congress, and speaker thereof by the selection of the whigs, and afterwards successor of Daniel Webster in the U. S. Senate; a life-long whig, and one of the ablest men in Massachusetts, addressed the McClellan meeting in New York on Saturday last.

Every man not wedded to abolition and miscegenation, is following such men as Winthrop, Johnson, Etheridge, Prentice and others, and giving notice "To whom it may concern," that they are for McClellan, Union and Peace.

THE WAR.

The Confederates captured twenty-five hundred head of cattle from Gen. Grant's army on Friday last. The cattle were grazing at Coggins Point, on the south side of the James, eight miles below City Point. They were guarded by a detachment of Kautz's cavalry. The Confederates, about five thousand strong, attacked the Federal camp at daylight on Friday morning, and surrounded the herd, capturing nearly all the cattle guards. There was scarcely a resistance made. In addition to the beefs, they seized one thousand prisoners and several wagons, with their teams of mules. They then marched southeast towards a point on the Weldon Railroad, seven miles below Roanoke Station. In various places on their march, they captured Federal pickets. A large force sent down the Jerusalem road to intercept them, arrived too late. They had crossed before the tardy pursuers reached the ground. Without being attacked, the Confederates crossed the Weldon Railroad and placed the herd in safety within their own lines. The booty they got was worth half a million of dollars.

TOM CORWIN is about to take the stump in favor of his "bloody hands and hospitable graves" party and candidates.

SPEECH OF HON. GEORGE H. PENDLETON.

MR. VALLANDIGHAM'S POSITION DEFINED.

He Will Support the Nominees of the Party.

[From the Dayton (Ohio) Empire, Sept. 17th.]

We had last night another of those magnificent demonstrations, now so common everywhere, showing conclusively with what force the tide of public sentiment is moving against Abraham Lincoln, and in favor of the Democracy. Mr. Pendleton came to the city yesterday evening, after the Empire had gone to press, and consequently too late to make any notice of his arrival. Nevertheless, the news spread rapidly, a band was engaged, and a serenade appointed at eight o'clock. As Mr. Pendleton was the guest of Mr. Vallandigham, a crowd soon began to assemble in front of Mr. V.'s residence, which was augmented to thousands by the arrival of an immense procession, headed by the band.

Mr. Pendleton being loudly called, came forward and spoke as follows:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: I thank you for this very flattering compliment—I thank you for this manifestation of the hospitality of Dayton, which has become proverbial throughout the United States.

At four o'clock this afternoon I did not expect to be here this evening. I came unexpectedly, on purely personal business, disconnected with public affairs. I had no idea of seeing any number of my fellow-citizens or discussing political questions.

This immense concourse thus suddenly convened fills me with renewed hope—it gives me confidence that soon again you will be called together, not as now, to commence a vigorous contest, but to rejoice over its results, to rejoice that the powers of the Government will be again in the possession of the Democratic party whose beneficent principles, recently solemnly announced in National Convention, will bring us peace, maintain the rights of the States, reinvigorate the Union, and with peace and Union will secure us the blessings of personal liberty, material prosperity and national power. But I will not repay your kindness by detaining you with a speech; I intended only to thank you for the honor you have done me, and now I beg leave to wish you good night.

Mr. Vallandigham was next called, and responded in a masterly speech of half an hour, which was repeatedly interrupted by cheers. He spoke in defense of the Democratic party and of State Rights and Peace, and in support of the Chicago platform. The Democratic party was a State Rights party—a constitutional party—a Union party—and just now a Peace party. It was his party and its candidates were his candidates. It bore the Ark of the Covenant; it carried the fortunes of the Republic, and in its success lay the only hope of the Republic. The Chicago platform enunciated its policy and principles by authority, and was binding upon every Democrat, and by them the Democratic Administration must and should be governed. It was the only authorized exposition of the Democratic creed, and he repudiated all others. The unity and harmony of the party were essential to success, and without success in November the country was lost. In conclusion he declared his purpose to vote for the nominees of the Chicago Convention as the only hope of securing the defeat of Lincoln, and the rescue of the Republic.

Pennsylvania State Fair.

The Pennsylvania State Fair to open at Easton, Sept. 27th inst., next Tuesday, and to continue four days, is creating a very great interest all over this section of the State and New Jersey. Numerous entries are being daily made, and from present indications it will be an immense gathering and display of articles.

The Floral and Fruit Departments are being arrayed on the grandest scale, ornamented with fountains, water jets, rock, rural scenery, &c., covering an area of 110 feet by 80 feet. The main building will be decorated with many of the flags, shields, bunting, ornaments, &c., lately exhibited at the Sanitary Fair, Philadelphia.

The Fruit Grower's Society of Easton, Pennsylvania, will meet on the grounds at the same time in convention, and display their numerous fruits, consisting of over 200 varieties of pears, from 75 to 100 varieties of grapes, apples, peaches, plums, &c., making an exhibition themselves.

The Society is negotiating for a Steam Plow with a fair prospect of success. On Thursday there will be a fireman's parade, and on Friday afternoon the Firemen of Northampton County will have a trial of speed on the track, contending for a premium, each horse carriage to be of equal weight, and to be drawn by the same party.

Grand trials of speed will be had upon the track upon each day. The premiums of $300, $200, $100, &c., for trotting will bring upon the track some of the fastest horses in the State.

The Lehigh Valley Railroad, New Jersey Central, Delaware, Flemington and Belviders, the North Penn'a East Penn'a, Lebanon Valley, Philadelphia and Trenton will all run excursion trains, against the hero of Antietam.

It is not too much to say, that it would be far better that Robert E. Lee should enter Washington at the head of his army as its conqueror, than that George B. McClellan should enter it as President.

PERSONS DESIROUS OF EXHIBITION

Persons desirous of exhibition must make their entries on or before Tuesday, Sept. 27. For particulars address, A. B. Longaker, Secretary, Easton, Pa.

CORRESPONDENCE.

GOSKIN, IND., Sept. 14, 1864.

COL. TATE, Dear Sir:—

Permit me, through the columns of your excellent journal, to speak a few words in regard to the manner in which our would-be ministers of the Gospel, but messengers of Satan, conduct themselves in this part of our once happy, but now distracted, country.

On Sunday eve last, I proceeded to the Methodist Church, hoping to hear the word of God expounded according to his laws laid down in the Holy Bible. But instead of that, to the utter shame and disgrace of the Christian community, we were presented by the would-be minister, but in truth political negro head, with a stump-speech, too offensive to be uttered in the house of God, and what was still more outrageous, on the Sabbath, which should be devoted to the praise of God, and not to political affairs. After discussing the manner in which our armies had been conducted, their progress, &c., and giving as might be expected these negro-loving ministers, a hint to Copperheads, he ended by reading and asking the choir to sing a National Song, but what he called a hymn.

Such, Mr. Editor, was the manner in which the word of God was presented to us. The congregation was horrified to think that this church should be devoted to a political stand, instead of a place where the lovers of God might assemble and praise Him according to divine truth. What the name of common sense will our Christian Community come to if we let in power Abolition minions instead of just men for our rulers? White men's rights have been imposed upon, and these political fiends and Despotic Tyrants go so far as to trample on the church and turn it into a political stand. It is time that something should be done to save our country from ruin and nothing short of the election of GEORGE B. MCCLELLAN, can save our country from eternal destruction.

The people of Elkhart county, as well as adjoining ones, have had their eyes opened of late and they are going to rush to the ballot-box this fall with a determination that Abraham Lincoln shall be their ruler no longer. Let the people in every State do so, and Satan, who has been loose for nearly four years, will be chained again.

Yours truly,

WILLIAM.

FOOT MOUNTAIN, SEPT. 13, 1864.

Editor of the Star of the North:—By the arrival of your paper of the 7th inst. we ascertained you knew of our whereabouts. A short account of our peregrination hither might interest your readers. On the morning of the last day of August I was verily unceremoniously tossed from my bed by a thunder storm, and I was obliged to leave my room in the night. I was very tired, and I was very much annoyed by the rain. I was very much annoyed by the rain. I was very much annoyed by the rain.

The judges on Cattle will be ready to examine them by 10 o'clock A. M. on Friday. Exhibitors must have their stock ready.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

General Election Proclamation.

WHEREAS, in and by an act of General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, entitled "An Act to regulate the General Elections within this Commonwealth," it is enacted, that on the 1st day of October, 1864, there shall be a general election, to be held in and for the county of Columbia, at the public house of John R. Haverstick, in the town of Benton.
